Le Souvenir Honors Dr. Dyson . . .

Southeastern Louisiana College has become one of the most outstanding institutions of higher learning in the South. Academically, Southeastern is perhaps the finest school in Louisiana, and its well-rounded curricular activities are perhaps the soundest anywhere. That Southeastern has become great is primarily because of a great leader.

Frequently many college administrators tend to the frills and forget the real purpose of education. But Southeastern has been fortunate to have a leader who stressed that good teaching and learning in the classroom were the real foundation of college. As a result, Southeastern is noted as an institution where students go to study—not to play.

Dr. and Mrs. Dyson

This image was created by a devoted leader who dedicated himself to seeing that Southeastern was a school in which students could get a solid foundation in the educational processes and at the same time participate in wholesome extra-curricular activities. The leader primarily responsible for Southeastern's huge growth and its solid academic program has been Dr. Luther H. Dyson.

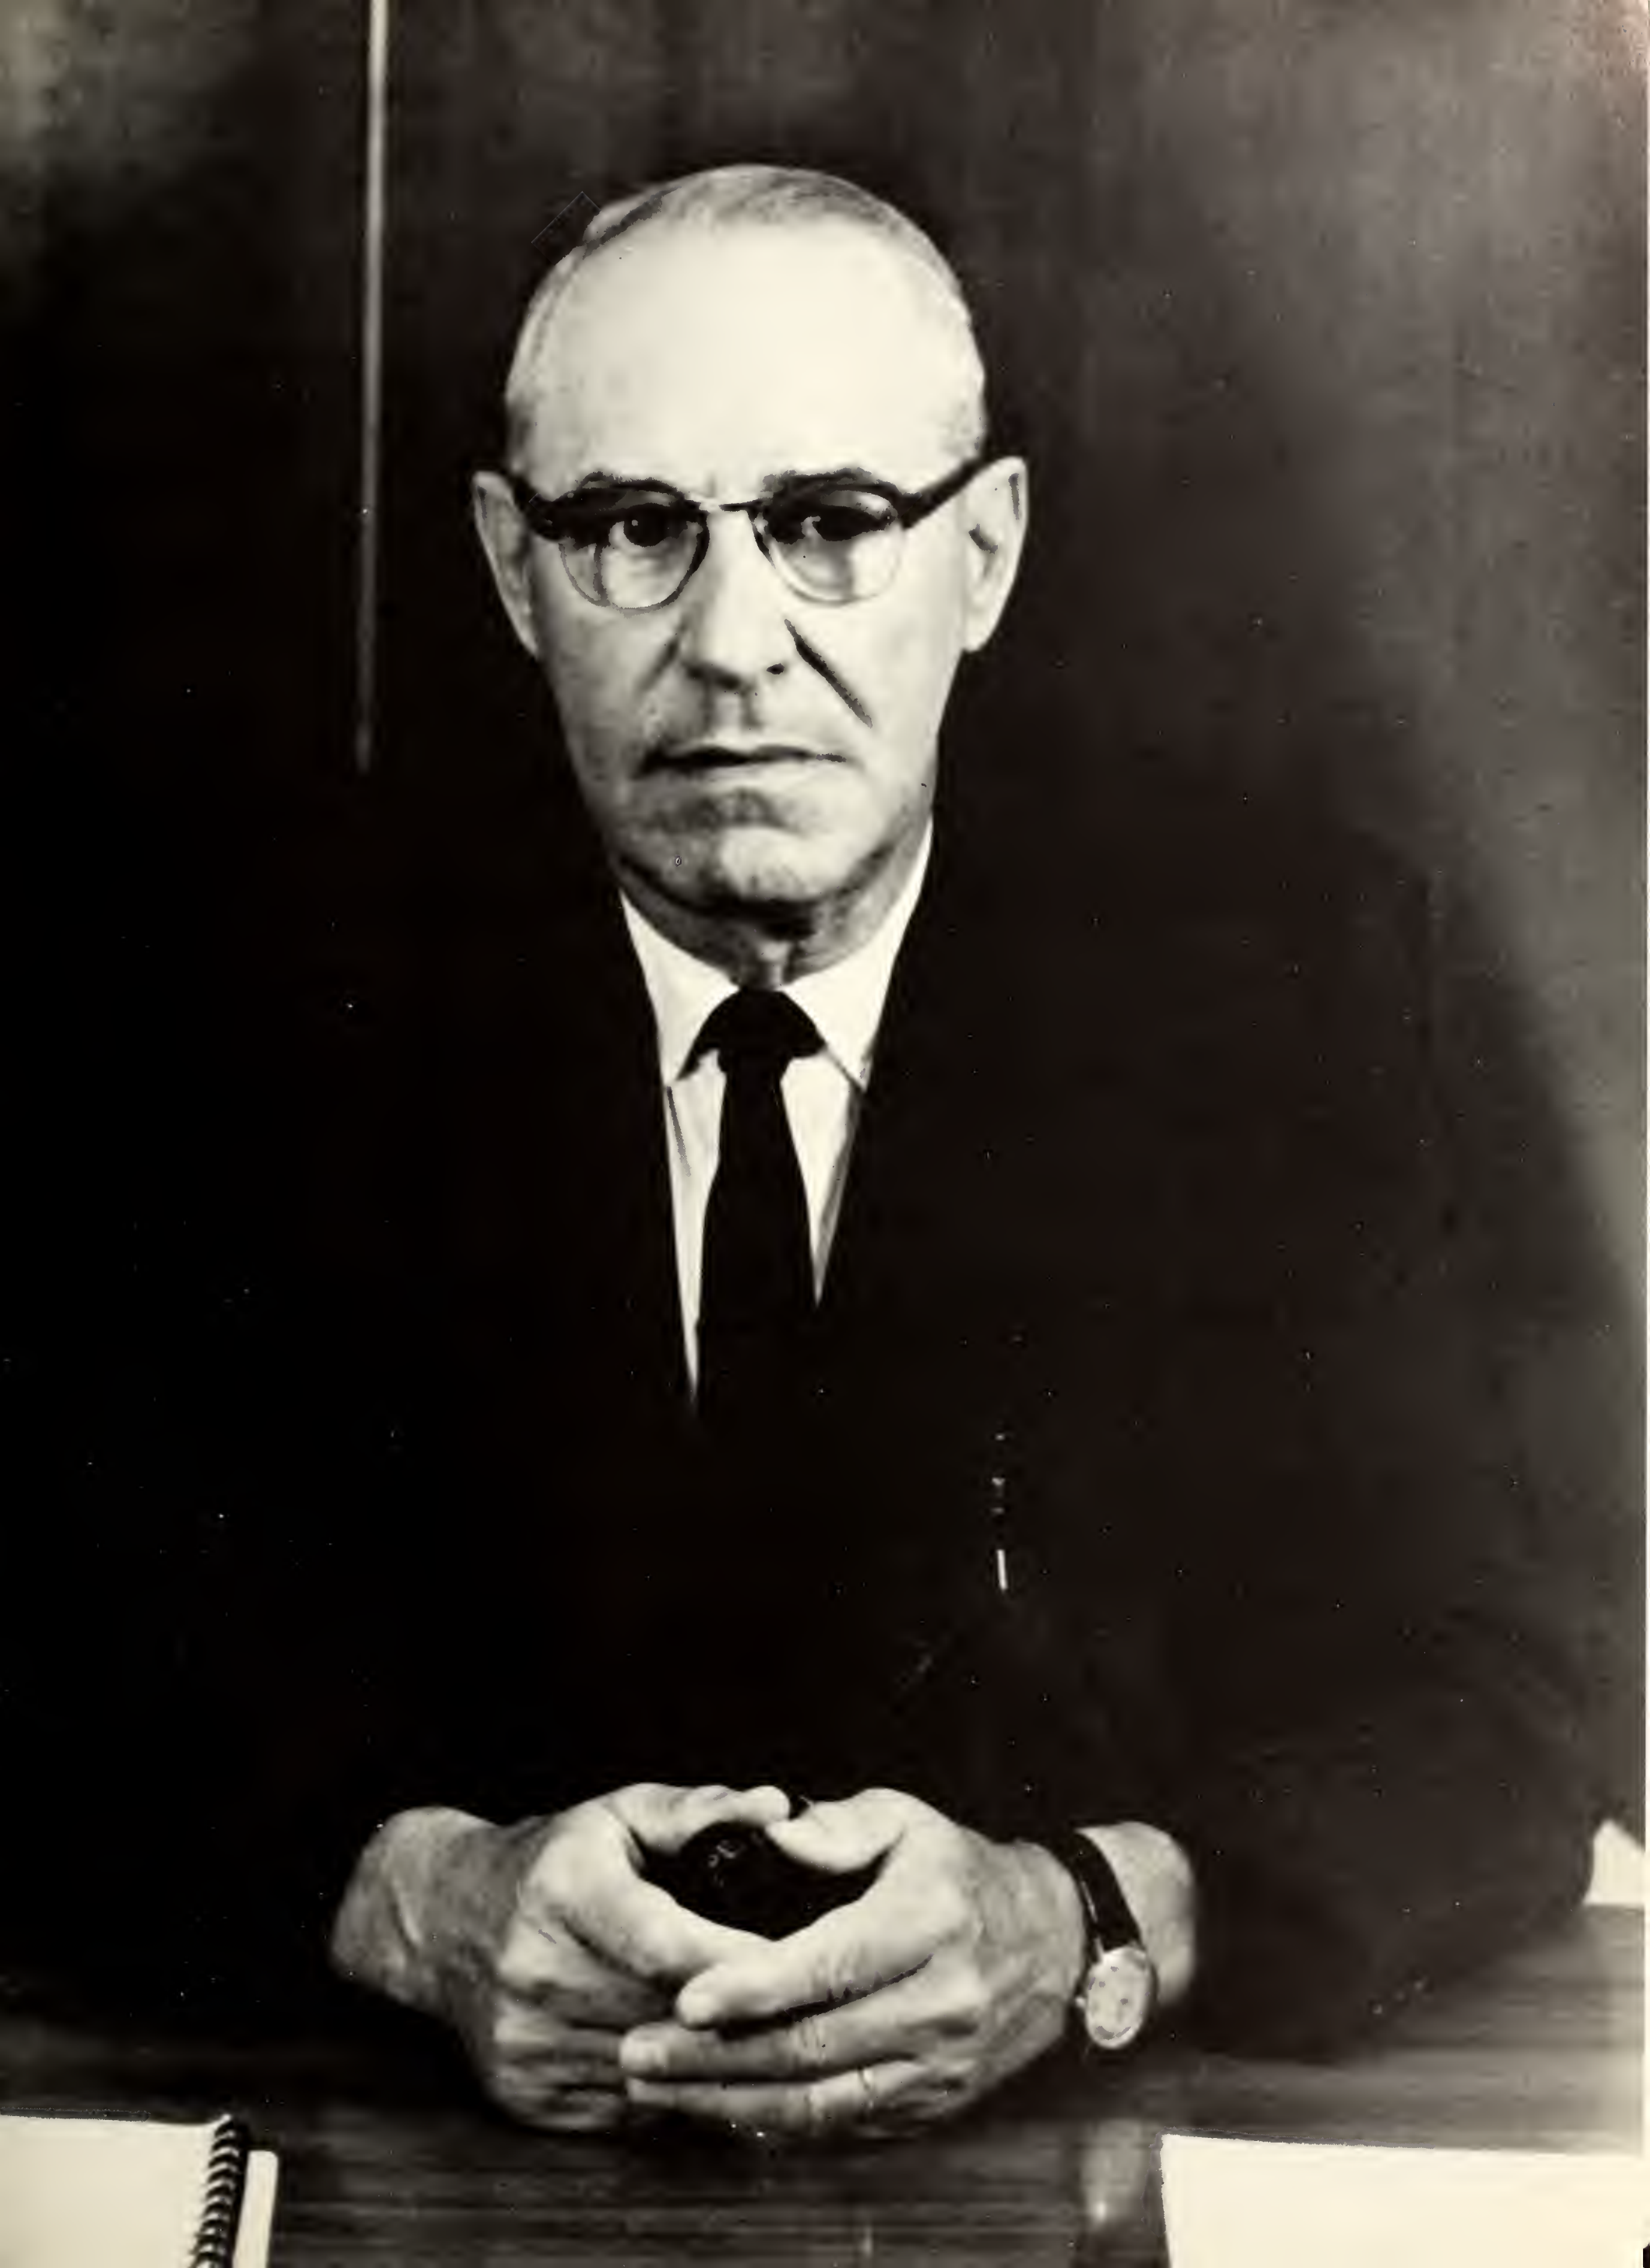

Dr. Dyson, who became president at Southeastern in 1953, is on a year's leave of absence and has announced that he plans to retire June 30. His name is synonymous with good education in Louisiana.

Born Luther Haley Dyson in Amite, Louisiana, on January 23, 1909, Dr. Dyson attended Amite High School, from which he graduated in 1926. He received the B.A. Degree in 1930, the M.A. Degree in 1937, and the Ph.D. degree in 1952, all from Louisiana State University.

He taught in Tangipahoa Parish Schools from 1930-37, was director of teacher training at Northwestern State College from 1937-43, was head of the Department of Education at Northwestern from 1943-45, and came to Southeastern in 1945 as Dean of the College and Dean of the Division of Education. He was promoted to president in 1953.

He has served as a member and an officer in most of the recognized educational and teacher organizations in the state and in the nation. To recount his many honors and services to education would require many pages. But to cite a few honors, he was elected for Who's Who in America, Who's Who in the South and Southwest, Who's Who Among Presidents in American Education, and Who's Who in American Education.

To this great leader whose active participation at Southeastern will be missed greatly, the Le Souvenir staff dedicates the 1968 edition. The staff also wishes Dr. Dyson and his wife, the former Ruth Kemp, all the happiness and success they so well deserve in retirement at their home in Amite.

The SLC Greeks are loyal supporters of the Lions and are among the leaders of school spirit. The Greeks help cheerleaders in putting up posters and signs, displaying the upcoming games, making huge signs for the football team to run through at games, decorating and designing floats for homecoming, and helping with organizing and leading pep rallies. To promote more school spirit, the Greeks participate in intramural football games. They also prove their team support by going to all home games, to out of town games, cheering with the cheerleaders, and congratulating individual team members on their ability to block, to pass, to guard, and to score touchdowns.

BIG NAME ENTERTAINERS VISIT SLC

Southeastern students had the opportunity to see two well-known recording groups in performance this fall. The Mitchell Trio entertained the student body on Oct. 4, and Oct. 18 Jay and the Americans performed as the second BNE of the semester.

The BNE is sponsored by the Student Government each semester.

Southeastern Selects Nineteen for Who's Who

Southeastern was one of 800 schools to have its students selected for "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

Campus nominating committees considered the students' scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, citizenship, service to their school and promise of future usefulness.

These are the outstanding students of SLC.

SLC Band Excels in Precision Marching

The sixty-four members of the Southeastern Louisiana College Marching Band under the new direction of Joseph Secrest are without a doubt responsible for much of the color and ceremony that is an important part of every college. Under the leadership of Janet Crow, head majorette, the band has given outstanding exhibitions on the football field and in the concert hall.

A great deal of the enthusiasm shown at athletic contests during the year was generated by excellent cheerleaders. Sponsored by Catherine Friedrichs, associate professor of Health and Physical Education, the group seemed to sense the proper moments when the student body would respond well to particular yells.

This year's group practiced faithfully and provided Southeastern with a corps of leaders that promoted a high degree of participation by the student body.

Gymnasts Roy Hollyfield of Metairie and Joel Walker of Baton Rouge added an unusual flavor to many of the performances of the cheerleaders. Robert Pratini of Violet, wearing the Lion suit, entertained on the field during halftime activities.

STUDENT UNION COMMITTEES

Founded in the spring of 1967, the Student Union Committees strive to make the students a part of their Union. These committees include the House Committee, the Recreation Committee, and the Cultural Committee. Each individual committee sponsors activities throughout the year. Projects by the cultural committee were an art show, a cultural forum, and a faculty-student question and answer session to promote better relationships between the two. Among the projects of the House Committee were bulletin boards in the snack bar to publicize student activities, spirit posters for the football games and campaigns to keep the Union free from litter. The Recreation Committee sponsored ping-pong, billiards, and checkers tournaments. They also offered instruction to all interested students.

House Committee members plan activities for the year.

Discussing new ideas for the Cultural Committee are Melissa Hobgood, Linda Starnes, Diane Ard, and Susan Nesanovich.

Ronnie Crimmons and Gayle Robinson look over the activi-ties scheduled by the Recreation Committee.

Linda Starnes and Melissa Hobgood discuss plans for the student art show.

Student Union director Doyle Magee addresses members at a general committee meeting.

James R. Parrish, adviser, offers guidance to the editor, Sammie Whittington.

Exchanging ideas for the Lion's Roar are Terry Ingram, news editor; Pamela Pike, photography editor; and Donna Preslar, feature editor.

The Lion's Roar

The Lion's Roar is the official student newspaper published weekly during the regular semester except during vacation and examination breaks. This year for the first time most of the students on the staff are working on scholarships.

The staff spends many long hours writing stories, proofreading copy, and pushing to meet the deadlines to produce an informative and enjoyable newspaper for the student body.

Also contributing to the success of the Lion's Roar is the Reporting Class of journalism students who gather the information for publication.

Vickie McDuffie, society editor, and Robert Beter, sports editor, prepare copy.

The Kappa Tau Chapter of AOPi was founded at SLC on January 5, 1963. AOPi members work diligently to fulfill their objective of "To encourage a spirit of fraternity and love among its members, to stand at all times for character and dignity, scholarship and strong college feelings and pure college politics."

AOPi sponsors the homecoming parade, decorates the stadium for that game, gives the Founder's Day Celebration, the Christmas Formal, Parents' Tea, Senior Party, and various big sister-little sister activities.

The oldest sorority on campus, Phi Chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau, was founded on February 17, 1940. Purposes of AST are to promote the character, social graces, and cultural development of its members. National, as well as local, social service projects are performed each year. With its brother fraternity, Sigma Tau Gamma, the sorority enjoys parties throughout the year such as the White Rose Ball, a Senior Tea, a Christmas party, the Parents' Tea, the Founder's Day Banquet, and participation in Greek Week.

Alpha Sigma Tau also awards a scholarship plaque to the sorority with the highest scholastic average.

Delta Tau Delta

Delta Tau Delta, formerly Alpha Tau Delta, was organized and approved as a local social fraternity in May, 1967. Five Hammond boys were responsible for organizing DTD. As the newest fraternity on the Southeastern campus, Delta Tau Delta was accepted by the national fraternity in January of 1968. The fraternity this year chose Georgia Garrett as their sweetheart. Dawson Crim and Henry Mentz were elected as faculty advisers.

Southeastern's Gamma Mu chapter of Tri Sigma is one of four located in Louisiana. A singing sorority, Tri Sigma's goals are to perpetuate friendship and to develop character. The chapter is also interested in maintaining high ideals, scholarship and social standards.

Tri Sigma serves children by supporting a memorial wing for children at Chapel Hill, North Carolina. The major activities of the chapter take place during Greek week which include a song-fest, spelling bee and playday. A formal Greek ball honoring sweethearts and outstanding Greeks is another project.

Modern Dance

The modern dance group is an active and well-known campus organization which represents Southeastern all over the state. Their performances are always presented with dexterity and beauty of form. Under the direction of Mrs. Katie Friedrichs, associate professor of health and physical education, the group performed at many Mardi Gras balls and state fairs. They also appeared in the musical "Manon".

Members of "Themes of Greece" include Sandra Firment, Linda Chambers, and Martie Fellom.

Jazz Ensemble

The newly formed jazz ensemble presented its first concert featuring arrangements in the style of Woody Herman and Count Basie. The ensemble is under the direction of Lee Fortier, director of bands at Broadmoor High School in Baton Rouge, and a part-time member of Southeastern's music faculty. The ensemble offered the following selections for its audience, "Walk on the Wild Side," "Teddy the Toad," "Jericho," and "The Shadow of Your Smile." In addition to this concert, the ensemble performed for many high schools and colleges throughout the state, including Loyola, Tulane and LSU. They also traveled to Mobile, Alabama, for the intercollegiate competition in March. The ensemble was formed to give Southeastern students training in another facet of instrumental music.

LONG DAY'S JOURNEY INTO NIGHT

This Eugene O'Neil play was the first production offered this year by the Department of English and Speech. The play was directed by Dwain Herndon and the scenery was designed by Dr. Harry Smith. The cast offered a well-paced performance which was well-received by the audience.

CAST

James Tyrone Steve Bellas
Mary Tyrone Cynthia Miller
Jamie Tyrone Russ Ronquillo
Edmund Tyrone Pierre de la Barre
Cathleen Natalie Schuppert

Because of the illness of Steve Bellas, Dwain Herndon, play director, portrayed the role of James Tyrone.

While Mary Tyrone reminisces about the past, Cathleen, her maid, encourages her to look to the future.

The miserly James Tyrone confronts his family with pessimistic views about their future.

James Tyrone accuses his wife of neglecting their children's training when they were young.

Winter Concert

The symphonic band presented one world and two Southern premieres at its annual Winter Concert. Shumann's "Concerto in A minor, Opus 54" was performed for the first time with all three movements played by a symphonic band. Miss Jean Barr, pianist and music faculty member at Southeastern, played the concerto accompanied by the symphonic band. The two Southern premieres included: Paul Hindemith's "Konzertmusik fur Blasorchester, Opus 41"; and "The Pines of Rome, Symphonic Poem," by Ottorino Respighi.

Robert Weatherly, conductor, leads the band at the concert.

Dr. Pottle gives his lecture-demonstration for the opening of the Lyceum Series.

LYCEUM HAS REWARDING HISTORY

Lyceum implies lectures, but the Lyceum Series at Southeastern encompasses a larger area. In addition to its lectures, the Lyceum presents programs in music, drama, dance, and current events.

The series began in the 1920's under the direction of Dr. Ralph R. Pottle, who carried the chairmanship of the committee until 1953. In 1954 Dr. Sidney Romero assumed the chairmanship and remained the chief officer until this year when Miss Lou Ballard was named chairman.

In its earliest years, Lyceum was presented on a sporadic basis with a doubtful budget, but energetic directors. Through the years the series has strengthened, bringing such speakers and entertainment as the late Lord Atlee, former Prime Minister of England; Drew Pearson; Ogden Nash; Longines Symphonette; numerous choirs; bands; Shakespearian performances; and even a Danish gym team.

The format of Lyceum has changed many times in the past. Attempts have been made to give the programs a central theme, but experience proved the necessity of liquidity of planning so that topics of unrelated but current interest could be employed in lecture. In much the same manner, topics of too technical a nature were discarded.

Previously the Lyceum worked in co-operation with a civic group on a matinee-night performance, but this system lapsed over the years until Lyceum became once more a college enterprise.

In the early 1950's the college program was stepped up, a definite schedule was outlined and an operating budget provided. Under this program the general expenses included a one dollar Lyceum fee matched on a one-to-one basis by the college. This presently gives the committee a working budget of approximately $10,000. This amount is used to defray speaker's expenses and also to bring in speakers during Religious Emphasis Week.

Lyceum is now at a crucial stage in its development. Ten thousand dollars budgeted previously although once deemed sufficient, is dwindling in buying power. Unlike at some other colleges, Lyceum at Southeastern is not designed as a profit-making venture, and this lack will not be made up by the students. To further compound the problem, the auditorium is sadly deficient in space and design for a high cultural commitment —seating only 750 of a college of 6000.

Although the future of Lyceum is uncertain, there is a certainty of the future—and with it a good chance for the expansion necessary for its growth.

LYCEUM SERIES 1967-68

Dr. Ralph Pottle, a retired member of the Southeastern faculty, opened the series with a lecture-demonstration entitled "Vibrating Bodies in Space."

An authority on Asian affairs, Ralphael Green presented his color film documentary "Russia vs. China" at an October Lyceum Lecture.

Honorable John David Lodge, former governor of Connecticut and Ambassador to Spain, analyzed the domestic and foreign problems facing this country in his speech "No Place to Hide."

Miss Lou Ballard is chairman of the Lyceum Series Committee.

At the second Lyceum Series, Ralphael Green presents his documentary on the conflict between Russia and China.

The Honorable John David Lodge delivers his speech on the current problems of this country.

LYCEUM SERIES 1967-68

Sylvia Zaremba, pianist from Sophie Newcomb School of Music, gave a recital as part of the Concert Series of the Lyceum Series. She holds her position as artist-in-residence at Tulane while she gives concert tours throughout the United States, Europe, and South America.

Dr. John Kyser, past president of Northwestern State College, gave a lecture entitled "Focus on Asia: Japan to the Mediterranean." The lecture was illustrated by a color slide collection collected and photographed by Dr. Kyser on his world travels.

Robert Dumm, professor and former Dean of the Boston Conservatory, gave a lecture-recital and conducted a Piano Workshop.

Pianist Sylvia Zaremba presents a concert for the Lyceum Series.

Dr. John Kyser gives a color slide illustrated lecture on Asian geography.

The well-known Boston pianist Robert W. Dumm presented a recital and workshop.

Baptist Student Union

The modern center offers recreation for all students during breaks.

Organized in 1932, the Southeastern Louisiana College Baptist Student Union has as its purpose to enlist every Baptist student on campus in the Baptist Church program and to insure Christian growth through a well-planned program of campus activities.

The student may combine his faith with college life through conventions, retreats, daily worship services, study programs and social activities.

The modern center is located just off campus, convenient for all to reach.

STANDING: Charles Hackett, Vice President; Barry Thompson and Brent Schultz.

Zeta Kappa, the local chapter of Gamma Delta, is the International Association of Lutheran College Students.

The endeavor of Gamma Delta is to conserve and develop Christian faith and to encourage Christian action among college students through a program of knowledge and service.

The purposes include the fostering of spirituality through Bible study, the dissemination of the scriptural philosophy of life and to maintain and increase fellowship among Lutheran students.

The student center offers a place to meet friends and to have some fun.

Newman Student Federation

Newman Student Federation, the Catholic student organization on campus, is open to students of all faiths. It strives to establish a feeling of Christianity among all.

Although mainly a religious organization, Newman Club also sponsors a wide range of educational and social activities.

The building facilities offer much to the students with a library-study room, listening room, television and games rooms.

Mass is also offered daily in the modern chapel across from the President's Home.

St. Albert's is one of the most modern buildings on campus and in Hammond.

Wesley Foundation

The Methodist Church sponsors the Wesley Foundation with its purpose to be the church through worship, study and fellowship.

Both students and faculty are served by the center. Varied activities are offered for the enjoyment and education of all who are interested, but primarily for Methodists.

The colonial style building is situated directly across from White Hall.

Students spend their spare time in activities at the center. With its convenient location, classes are just across the street; so even more time can be spent in the center.

The John Knox Society became Westminster Fellowship of SLC in 1948.

The purpose of the fellowship is to minister to the total academic community. One of its chief goals is to bring together the students, faculty and administration of Southeastern in a worshiping fellowship.

Several activities are sponsored each semester by Westminster. Each Thursday night, a meeting is held for all who are interested. The student center is also located across the street from White Hall.

Students may be found at the center any time of the day.

Circle K

Southeastern's Circle K is one of 600 service organizations on college campuses in the United States and Canada. It is the largest college organization in North America. Begun in 1952, Southeastern's was the first club in the Mississippi-Tennessee-Louisiana area.

Each year Circle K sponsors an activity for the children of Hammond State School. This fall, members took the children trick or treating on Halloween.

Again this Christmas, the Circle K collected Christmas cards to send to servicemen in Viet Nam.

These are just two of the many projects sponsored each semester.

Pi Gamma Mu

A member of the Association of College Honor Societies, Pi Gamma Mu is the National Social Science Honor Society. It is also affiliated with the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

For membership, a student must have at least junior standing with a "B" average in twenty semester hours of social science. He must also be in the top ten percent of the total upperclassmen.

The society also endeavors to fit in the members a life-interest in the study of human associations and in the solution of social problems.

Phi Kappa Phi

Members of Phi Kappa Phi are selected by a faculty committee and are announced at the annual fall Honor's Convention.

It is a national honorary society composed of seniors who have been enrolled at Southeastern for at least one year, have maintained a B average or better, and rank in the top 12½ per cent of their academic division.

Phi Mu Epsilon

Incorporated in 1941 in New York, Phi Mu Epsilon is a national mathematics honorary fraternity with over 100 active chapters in 39 states and in the District of Columbia.

The purpose of this non-secret organization is to promote scholarly activity among students and faculty in academic institutions and among the staffs of qualified non-academic institutions.

On March 21, 1964, the Louisiana Delta Chapter was established on Southeastern's campus with 14 charter members, 13 non-charter members and five faculty members.

To be eligible for membership, a sophomore student must be in the top quarter of his class, must have completed Mathematics 202, and have straight A's in all mathematics courses taken. The junior or senior student must be in the top third of his class and have a B average in mathematics with no grade lower than a C.

Christmas Concert

The SLC Concert Choir, under the direction of Ralph Roberts, presented their fourth annual Christmas Concert in the college auditorium. The concert was well-received by a capacity audience. For the first time, the prelude was performed by the Brass and Choir in the auditorium foyer. Soloists Linda Carter, Evelyn Furr, Donald Smith, and narrators Cynthia Miller and Robert Zehr made the program very inspirational.

Honor's Convocation

At the annual Fall Honor's Convocation, nearly 300 SLC students were addressed by Dr. Cecil G. Taylor, Louisiana State University's first main chancellor. These students were honored for their scholastic achievement. At this time the new members of the "13" Club and Phi Kappa Phi, National Honorary Scholastic Fraternity, were announced. Following the program, guests, students, and their parents were invited to a reception held in the Student Union Ballroom.

Christmas on Campus

Caroling, trimming the tree, decorating your door, Christmas dinner, Christmas cards to Viet Nam, and dorm parties are all a part of Christmas at Southeastern.

Peggy Beach Is Chosen Homecoming Queen

As a climax to Southeastern's 1967 Homecoming festivities, Peggy Beach, a junior from New Orleans, was chosen as Homecoming Queen. Selected from the sweethearts of twenty-seven campus organizations, Miss Beach reigned as queen over homecoming activities which included various alumni programs, a pre-game parade, the football game between SLC's Lions and Louisiana Tech, and a semi-formal dance after the game. All the escorts for the queen and members of the Homecoming court were chosen from Kappa Delta Tau Fraternity.

Southeastern Louisiana College closed out its 1967 season with a 4-5 record, finishing in fifth place in final league standings. Most Valuable Player Awards went to Danny Schilling and Dan Brewer. Brewer also was named the League's outstanding back and gained a quarterback slot in the league. Mac Faul and David LeSage were named to the all-GSC. The '67 season was filled not only with many outstanding performances but also with many disappointments; however, it was a season well played. Even though it was a losing season for SLC, the Lions have a very bright outlook for the upcoming season since only three members departed. Looking back on the 1967 season, Southeastern Louisiana College Coach Pat Kenelly summed up the Lions' play by stating, "The players exhibited the confidence the coaches had in them with their win over Northwestern." The season will be well remembered by many SLC fans.

Dan Brewer, Lion quarterback, breaks away for a gain.

The opening game of the 1967 season for the Lions was spoiled by a 20-7 loss to the University of Southern Mississippi. The game's scoring was opened by a 65-yard punt return for a Southern score. The Lions drove the ball 63 yards for touchdown position when Lynn Day carried the ball 13 yards for a Lion touchdown. The extra point was scored by John Short, making the score 7-7. Southern took the lead with another touchdown and pursued the ball for one more touchdown for a final score of 20-7.

The SLC baseball squad played a 32-game schedule during the spring semester. Coach Jim Waldrop's team played its regular 24 Gulf States Conference games and faced non-conference competition with Loyola University, Tulane University, Baylor University, and Wisconsin State University. Returning this year were all-GSC catcher Gerard Oubre, former all-Gulf States Conference second baseman Ted Davis, and outfielder Jim Antoon.

Cross Country

Southeastern Louisiana College is unique for its well-rounded program of sports including its Cross Country team. The team under the direction of Coach Al LeBlanc participated in an eight 3.3 mile meet schedule, and the NOAC Turkey Day five mile run held in New Orleans. The eight man team consisted of three returnees: John Caillouette, Joe Temple, and Shirley Littell; and John Burleson, Joe Silar, Steve Pereria, Pete Soutullo, and Billy Brousse.

Golf

The SLC golf team played ten matches and participated in two tournaments this spring. Under the direction of Coach Luther Marlar the team played in the Southern Mississippi Tournament and the LSU Invitational Tournament. The Lion golfers hit the road for six consecutive dual matches before returning home for three encounters and the Gulf States Conference Tournament.

Track and

The SLC track team participated in four home meets and nine road meets this spring. Under the direction of Coach Al LeBlanc, the team competed in the McNeese Invitational, Texas Relays, Southwestern Relays, and Northwestern Relays. Returning this spring were GSC sprint champ Andy Theil, pole vault king Bobby Brown, and three-year lettermen Mike Lee, Shirley Littell, Gus Madere, Martin Needom and Chuck Reid. The major highlight of the 1968 schedule was the annual Gulf States Conference track and field championships.

Gymnastics Club

The Gymnastics Club, organized in the fall of 1954, has grown in membership as well as perfection. Daily practice under the leadership of Coach Glenn Bowman is open to anyone interested and qualified for dedicated service to the organization. Activities for the season include a tour to surrounding high schools, a home show in the spring, and performances during halftime at home basketball games.

SENIORS: STANDING: Roy Hollyfield, Joel Walker, Henry Hutson, and Dickie Cahanin. KNEELING: George Courtney.

Dickie Cahanin performs a planche on the still rings.

Six members of the Gymnastics Club construct a human pyramid.

Luke Binner and Brenda Allen execute a shoulder stand, one stunt used in the men and women's dual balancing routine.

Straining to complete a three-man pyramid are Paul Bowman (bottom), Henry Hudson (center), and Sidney Legnon (top).

Intramurals

The three leagues in which all students may participate in intramurals are fraternity, residence hall, and organization leagues. Under the operation of Coach Al LeBlanc a student may participate in any of the following sports: football, baseball, track, cross country, tennis, badminton, ping pong, and volleyball; and learn the meaning of true sportsmanship.

Winner of the TKE member-pledge volleyball game were the members of the fraternity.

Game action during intramural football proves to be interesting.

Southeastern's New First Family

RETIRING PRESIDENT DR. LUTHER H. DYSON visits with Dr. and Mrs. Parker at Les Medames supper.

Dr. and Mrs. Clea Parker and their four children are welcomed as the new First Family of Southeastern.

Dr. Parker was named President-Elect by the State Board of Education in its January meeting to replace Dr. Luther H. Dyson, who is on a year's leave of absence and plans to retire June 30. Dr. Parker assumed the reins of the College during the week of January 15.

Dr. Parker came to Southeastern from Nicholls State where he was professor and head of the Department of Student Teaching. Prior to that time he had taught at Rugby Academy in New Orleans, been supervisor of instruction and director of curriculum and instruction of the St. Tammany Parish Schools, and visiting lecturer at LSUNO.

Born in Talisheek, La., April 2, 1927, he received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Southeastern in 1948, the Master of Education in 1952 and the Doctor of Education in 1965, both from Louisiana State University.

He is a member of the Louisiana Teachers' Association, the National Education Association, the Louisiana School Supervisors' Association, the Louisiana Association for Student Teaching, the Louisiana Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, the National Association for Student Teaching, and the National Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development.

He is married to the former Peggy Ann Faciane of Slidell. They have four children: Brian, 11; Stephen, 9; Karen, 7; and Robin, 2.

The Parkers have injected youth, direction, energy, and foresight into the administration and social life of Southeastern, and the College already has shown that great things are in the making for the future.
